

Only one person knows more about the Decent Homes Standard than us. But we're an awful lot easier to ring for advice.

As we're sure you already know, the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister is committed to raising the quality of Social Housing through its Decent Homes Standard.

That's why Applied Energy, the company responsible for brands such as Creda, Xpelair and Redring, is equally committed to helping you achieve the Standard in heating, ventilation and bathrooms. As a result, our market-leading products are now backed by a unique 'Decent Homes Package' which includes service support, partnering, tailored literature, specialist advice and CPD-accredited training.

So, for expert help the easy way, simply elect to return the coupon, call the number below, or visit our dedicated website.

01733 456 829 www.DecentHomesStandard.co.uk

applied energy ///
The Decent Homes Standard experts

---

Please complete the coupon to register your interest in our CPD-accredited information and send to: Applied Energy Products Ltd, Morley Way, Peterborough PE2 9BR, or fax to 01733 465708.

Name  Position

Organisation  Organisation Address

Telephone  Email